AOC Coteaux varois en Provence, Provence, France

This wine is very expressive with elegant fruity notes, a good freshness with a nice acidity towards the end. It is a very pleasant and convivial wine.

TERROIR

Château la Sauvarède is located in the town of Brue-Auriac, in the center of the Var region also called «Green Provence». The estate covers 36 ha of forests and fields including 12 ha of vines.

The vineyard is south exposed and stands on very sunny and slightly hilly slopes with at its top the charming Provencal house sold in 1752 by Augustin Serre de Barjols to the powerful Lord George de Roux who was the marquis of Brue.

VARIETALS

Cinsault, Grenache, Syrah

TASTING

The wine is very expressive with elegant fruity notes, a good freshness with a nice acidity towards the end. It is a very pleasant and convivial wine.

SERVING

Serve at 8-10°C.
Drink within 12 months to enjoy it at its best.

FOOD PAIRINGS

The rosé is a pure product of this «terroir» and will go very well with white meat, fish, cured meat and all the wonderful provencal cuisine.
